Birth data	29 August 1979 – London, UK – 7:21 pm
Cultural, socio/political context	Raised in 2 European countries with a family from different origins and spoke different languages. Have always lived a very multicultural life and do not have a “home” in any one place and never felt that I belonged to any culture. I don’t have any political orientation but have only lived in democratic countries.
Religious/spiritual upbringing	Liberal Irish catholic mother, atheist father. Went to catholic school but never internalized any of the ideas. Didn’t even learn the words to the prayers but instead mimed the sounds.
Evolutionary stage	Spiritual stage – I find it difficult to define which level as I resonate with parts of all of the spiritual states. I have been going through rapid changes within my consciousness these past years and feel as though I am shifting rapidly to “catch up to” or align with where I truly am on a soul level.

Short summary of sensitive issues	I do not personally feel that these are sensitive issues for myself but I have experienced and witnessed a great deal of physical violence throughout life and I have also been through periods of futility and wished to end my life as an escape from the perceived distortions of the world. I have no problem discussing these matters though.
BIOGRAPHY	Liberal catholic mother, atheist father. Went to catholic school but never internalized any beliefs. Remember experiences of fear and humiliation from interactions with the nuns. Experienced much physical violence throughout life. Moved many times, never more than a few years in one place. Eldest child of 4, much responsibility yet uncontrollable and "wild". Was completely fearless, would take a beating to speak my mind and tempted fate on a daily basis. Left home at 15. Had 3 long term relationships. Currently pregnant with third child. Have lived in cycles of dutifulness and order and escapism and chaos. Astrology gave me the proof I needed of a higher power and led me on a search to spiritualize. For about 6 months I tried out different techniques and practices then quickly came to the realization that they were all just ways to believe in what you could just be. I now trust my own natural understanding and answer my own questions. I look to nature and the universe as my guidance. I practice patience, love and understanding in daily life through trial and error.
TIMELINE OF IMPORTANT LIFE EVENTS	Dec 12th 1991 – Moved to a different country, with completely foreign language. 1998 – spent a whole year in a new town with no money or home. Had a bag with some clothes, stayed with friends I made along the way. It was total freedom. A good year. Feb 12th 2000 – Experienced an LSD induced awakening where I was disillusioned to all of the distortions of the world and how we had evolved into a direction that was totally false to our true nature. This led to a deep depression where I no longer wanted to be a part of this world. I felt very alone in my understandings and, at that time, it seemed as though I was deluded whereas I was experiencing total clarity. (Pluto transiting over natal Neptune (SN ruler) in Sagittarius 10th house.) August 6th 2006 – I had my first child. October 11th 2011 – Met my current husband which led to a second awakening, a much more hopeful one. We share a [composite] 9th house Pluto (spiritual stage) and the (re)connection brought clarity to everything. April 8th 2013 – Second child was born. A natural breech birth.
